

David Bromstad turns drab to fab on Color Splash: Miami

January 18th, 2011 12:32 am CT

David Bromstad meets Stefan and Katia at the W Hotel to see their design inspiration on the Color Splash: Miami episode that originally aired January 15, 2011.

Katia likes bold, bright colors. Stefan prefers neutrals and earth tones. The kitchen, dining, and living area they would like David to decorate is small and has high ceilings.

David has bright stripes painted down grey walls. The stripes continue onto the dining room table which is covered with glass. A large chair to go at the head of the table is brought in. A yellow shag rug the couple had previously selected is placed under the table.

Terge Lundaas makes an abstract, custom chandelier and centers it over the table.

Gerry Stecca creates floor to ceiling columns using 6000 clothespins.

Katia and Stefan disagree about having a working cuckoo clock. David decides to do a painting of a modern looking black and white cuckoo clock to display in the dining room.

Sheer curtains, accessories, and lounging furniture in the adjoining living room complete the look.

In St. Paul, new episodes of Color Splash: Miami can be seen Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. on HGTV.
