

« [\[ROUND-UP\] Valentine's Gifts for Your Stupid Relationship](#) | Main | How to Read Rue Mag Step-by-Step »

[Interview'd] David Bromstad of Color Splash

BLAHG'D ON WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2011 AT 06:00AM | BY AMANDA WAAS

I'm going to be honest: I had a list of legitimate questions that I was going to ask HGTV's David Bromstad when I interviewed him.

I even sent them to him ahead of time, so he would be prepared.

But I got on the phone with this guy and all of that went out the window. We ended up talking about our love of vodka and our love/hate relationship with the iPhone much more than paint swatches.

I wouldn't have had it any other way.

Okay, okay. I'll attempt to muster up some kind of professionalism around here. You may be thinking, "Professionalism? On a blog? Amanda, you're out of your damn mind!" But believe it, people. I am a JOURNALIST. Recognize.

David Bromstad is the super cute, tribal tattooed season one winner of Design Star. After winning Design Star, he went on to get his own show on HGTV: Color Splash, where he shows up at someone's suburban home and introduces them to something other than beige or mauve.

Everyone is grateful. Who knew that your rec room could have so much pizzazz! DAVID, that's who.