HOME IS WHERE

GET YOUR FIX OF TV'S SEXIEST HANDYMEN BY DAMIAN HOLBROOK

DAVID BROMSTAD

DESIGN STAR

Tuesdays, 9/8c, HGTV; HGTV.com, iTunes; Twitter: @bromco

WHY HE'S HOT: He does it all! In addition to Design Star—which he won in Season 1—Bromstad hosts HGTV's Color Splash and White Room Challenge. Plus, he's super ripped but silly. "[Fans] would say my best assets are my eyes, teeth, face, arms, butt, hair, abs, profile and hands," he teases. "But that's probably about it...I really don't like to boast."

BOLD AND BEAUTIFUL: The out-and-proud former Disney theme-park designer is all about color. "When a client says, 'Go crazy,' it makes my insides tingle. That's where my creativity can truly be [displayed], and the fabulousness takes place."

TOP TIP: Start small. "Don't take on a major job without having some type of experience in what you are doing," says Bromstad. "If you're somewhat handy and have some design sense, then go for it!"

MATT MUENSTER

BATHTASTIC!

Tuesdays, 10/9c, DIY; diynetwork.com, iTunes; Twitter: @MattJMuenster

WHY HE'S HOT: The scruffy, blond boy next door was voted "Best Eyes" in college, loves using environmentally friendly materials and keeps it tight while working his magic on high-end bathroom renovations. Says Muenster: "Lifting toilets all day can be a workout."

SEXIEST ASSET? Confidence. "It's knowing that you've done this before and you're good at what you do," says Muenster, who lives to satisfy his clients' modern tastes. "People who like more contemporary design make the job fun for me."

TOP TIP: "Make good use of your camera phone," he advises. "Take pictures of whatever you're working on or trying to replace before you go to the store to buy the parts you need."

THE HOT IS

ANTHONY CARRINO & JOHN COLANERI

KITCHEN COUSINS

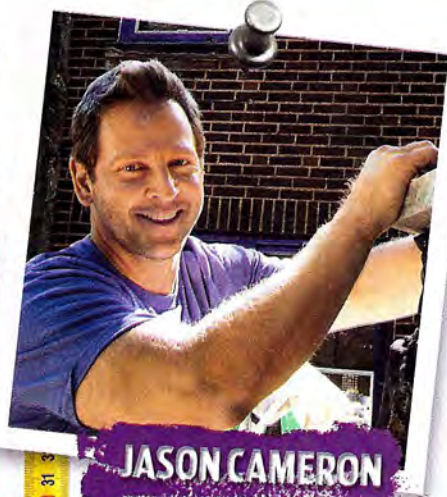

Wednesdays, 8:30/7:30c, HGTV; Twitter: @KitchenCousins

WHY THEY'RE HOT: Tall, dark and hilarious, the Jersey boys—John builds, Anthony designs—pour their blood, sweat and tight tees into every job. “I like to get my hands dirty,” says Carrino (above left).

SEXIEST ASSET? “I may or may not have been told I have a nice [butt],” Carrino jokes, while his cuz owns up to owning a winning smile. “I always get compliments on it,” says Colaneri.

HANDIEST TOOL: “My Leatherman...it has everything on it that I need,” says Colaneri of his tricked-out screwdriver.

TOP TIP: Do the math. “If you are doing a backsplash, for example, make sure you add 10 percent to your square-footage number for cuts and waste,” says Carrino.

JASON CAMERON

MAN CAVES

Fridays, 9/8c, DIY; diynetwork, iTunes; Twitter: @jcamerontv

WHY HE'S HOT: Have you ever googled this guy? The Web is packed with bod-baring shots from the buff Cameron's modeling days. But it's the married contractor's way with a sledgehammer and shovel that really makes him a hot property. “I love the process of designing something in my head and then building it with my hands.”

SEXIEST ASSET? “According to my wife, [my best feature] is a toss-up between my voice and my arms.”

TOP TIP: “The best advice I can give...is to take the time to plan, plan, plan,” says the former actor, who also gives good garden on Desperate Landscapes. “The devil is always in the details.”

CHRIS LAMBTON

GOING YARD

Saturdays, 5/4c, HGTV; Twitter: @ChrisLambton13

WHY HE'S HOT: As a runner-up on The Bachelorette, the Massachusetts landscaper lost Ali Fedotowsky but won over millions of viewers—including new bride, Bachelor alum Peyton Wright—with his big heart and broad shoulders. “Handymen are hot because we work with our hands and have to keep in shape,” he says with a laugh. “It helps with the ladies, too. That’s how I landed my wife!”

HANDIEST TOOL: His beloved mattock. “It’s like a cross between an ax and a pick,” he says.

TOP TIP: Safety first! “If you’re digging a hole or installing something electrical outside, call [utility hotline] Dig Safe,” he urges. “Electricity is not a do-it-yourself project.”
